

I tried my best to create a more authentic version of Kylie Jenner's Interview cover, given that I'm, you know, actually disabled and a real life wheelchair user. I can barely get people to make eye contact with me, let alone land a cover shoot. If being in a wheelchair is trendy now, I've apparently been a trendsetter since before Kylie was born.

December 3, 2015 — 6:34pm with 69,535 notes

“Exceptional bodies” in American popular cultures

American Studies 344-1500 (64158) – Spring 2017
11 AM – 12:15 PM / Mondays & Wednesdays /
4040 Wescoe Hall / KU Lawrence Campus

A multi-disciplinary, multi-media, intersectional look at whose bodies matter, which bodies matter, and where, why, and how bodies matter across cultures, times, and spaces

FOR MORE INFORMATION, PLEASE CONTACT
Ray Mizumura-Pence, Instructor
KU American Studies Department
Mobile Phone: 785.304.2966
Email: 8rp14ence@gmail.com